INTRODUCTION

A. SUMMARY AND BACKGROUND

The Middle Rio Grande Conservancy (MRGCD) is a political subdivision of the State of New Mexico and is governed by New Mexico State Statutes NMSA 1978, Chapter 73. The NM Legislators created MRGCD by Conservancy Act of 1923. The MRGCD extends from Cochiti Dam to the north boundary of Bosque Del Apache National Wildlife Refuge and, we employ approximately 200 employees and operate five (5) offices with the General office located at 1931 Second Street, SW, Albuquerque, New Mexico.

The Middle Rio Grande Conservancy District (MRGCD) encompasses approximately 150 river miles from Cochiti Dam to the north boundary of Bosque Del Apache. It varies approximately 1 to 5 miles in width. The total area is 277,760 acres with 28,500 acres of Indian land and 128,787 acres of irrigable lands. Presently, there are approximately 60,000 irrigated acres.

The District serves the six Middle Rio Grande Pueblos including Cochiti, Santo Domingo, San Felipe, Santa Ana, Sandia and Isleta as well as 10,000 private land owners with the counties of Sandoval, Bernalillo, Valencia and Socorro. The major functions of the MRGCD are to divert, transport and deliver irrigation water efficiently to the water users, provide flood protection from the Rio Grande via properly maintained levees and provide subsurface drainage benefits to the valley by operating and maintaining the drains resulting in a lowering of the water table. In addition, the District is party to the 2016 Biological Opinion that requires actions to advance the recovery and protect the habitat of the Rio Grande silvery minnow, the southwestern willow flycatcher and the yellow billed cuckoo. The District also manages 30,000 acre of the Rio Grande Bosque and recreational and wildlife management activities within a multi-agency approach.

There are seven elected Board of Directors for a four year term which are as follows: 1-member, Sandoval County; 3-members, Bernalillo County; 1-member, Valencia County; 1-member, Socorro County; and 1-member, At-Large.

The MRGCD maintains contracts with Department of the Interior, Bureau of Reclamation, Bureau of Indian Affairs, Corps of Engineers, and US Fish and Wildlife Service. The MRGCD also works very closely with the State of NM, cities, counties, and other agencies within the state.

SCOPE OF WORK

MIDDLE RIO GRANDE CONSERVANCY DISTRICT'S Conservation Program STRATEGIC OUTFALL MONITORING, SAMPLING, AND ANALYSIS PLAN

PROJECT OVERVIEW

This Monitoring, Sampling, and Analysis Plan for spring, summer and fall 2024 includes fisheries monitoring of seven (7) pre-selected wasteways and drain outfalls in the Isleta Reach and provides field personnel with detailed instructions on sampling locations, field equipment operations, monitoring methodologies, and operating procedures.

The drain outfalls in the Middle Rio Grande may provide refugial habitat for fish including Rio Grande Silvery Minnow (RGSM), when river flows are low and/or when river drying occurs. When the river experiences drying or very low flows, drain outfalls can be some of the very limited areas along the river that remain wet or have appropriate water temperature and velocity for fish. A refuge implies that it is a temporary habitat and not necessarily the most suitable for RGSM, but may increase survival when there is no other wetted area. It is possible that fish have used these drains as refuge for quite some time, especially when historic river drying was more extensive prior to current water management. They also may become increasingly important as consecutive drought years continue and possibly increase in severity and overbank flooding, oxbows, and backwater habitats continue to decline.

There have been several studies done on fish assemblages in the drains. One study found a high number of fish species (18) in the Peralta canal and 122 RGSM when the Isleta Reach was dry in the summer of 2004, suggesting that irrigation canals can function seasonally as refugial habitats for fish (Cowley et. al 2007). This study and others (Lang and Altenbach, 1994; Wesche et. al, 2010; Archdeacon et. al, 2013; SWCA 2016) have also found high numbers of fish species including RGSM in the drain outfalls. Sampling efforts by SWCA in 2023 found consistent numbers of RGSM utilizing the outfalls during the middle of summer when main channel conditions were variable. Based on the higher number of young of year RGSM in Alejandro in 2015, it is also possible that RGSM may spawn in certain outfall locations. The District has enhanced seven of these wasteways/outfall sites to include sustained discharge of water via delivery control structures, and habitat improvement where applicable. This study is intended continue collect a post-improvement data set in order to obtain a comprehensive understanding of habitat suitability and fish use of these key drain wasteways/outfalls.

PROJECT GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

Fisheries monitoring of wasteway and drain outfalls to be conducted during spring, summer, and fall of 2024 is intended to:

- Document persistence of fish in river channel wetted by drain/wasteway outfall during periods of drying through presence/absence sampling to determine relative abundance of fish species
- Document drain outfall and adjacent river fish communities by conducting sampling to determine relative abundance of fish species.
- Document habitat quality, type(s), and approximate location fish are utilizing and depth and velocity of areas sampled.
- Document water quality as a measure of habitat quality for native fish.
- Document lifecycle stages of Rio Grande Silvery Minnow that are sampled at the seven outfall locations.
- Study the relationship between the observed presence absence of RGSM in the outfall or adjacent channel across varied conditions, to inform the future timing, duration, and magnitude of outfall deliveries.

PROJECT METHODOLOGIES

SITE SELECTION

Up to seven (7) sites have been selected for fisheries monitoring during spring, summer and fall 2024 (Table 1). MRGCD staff will direct Contractor to focus sampling efforts at various sites throughout the course of the irrigation season. Site selection will be made during the course of the irrigation season as sampling efforts and river conditions develop. Outfall sampling will entail collection from 2-4 100-meter long locations per event per outfall, depending on outfall channel length. In addition, the main channel will be sampled from the confluence of each wasteway/drain downstream at five (5) 100-meter long locations during each outfall visit to develop a Catch Per Unit Effort (CPUE) metric that is consistent with other standardized RGSM sampling efforts. Contractor should develop a cost estimate that allows for up to twenty-one (21) sampling events to be spread across the 7 sites in 2024.

Table 1

Wasteway/Drain Outfall Sites Selected for MRGCD 2024 Fisheries Monitoring.

Strategic Outfalls	River Mile
240 Wasteway	164.9
Los Chavez Outfall	156.7
Peralta Wasteway	152.5
New Belen Wasteway	147.6
Lower Peralta #2	145.1
Storey Wasteway	140.6
San Francisco Outfall	127.0

OUTFALL FISHERIES SAMPLING

The 240, Los Chavez, Peralta, Lower Peralta 2, New Belen, Storey, and San Francisco wasteway/drain outfall sites and the associated main channel within the Isleta Reach of the Middle Rio Grande will be selected for fisheries monitoring during the spring, summer and early fall of 2024. A maximum of (21) sampling events will occur, spread between the 7 sites. Each site will likely be sampled once during the months of March or April (corresponding to annual spring runoff event), June-July, and again between August-September. The associated main channel will be sampled during each of the wasteway sampling events. Outfall channel sampling will consist of a minimum of two (2) and a maximum of four (4) 100-meter sampling areas with 12 samples per 100 meters.

Sampling at drain sites will be varied to accommodate habitat variability among the sites and to maximize the catch of fish. At all drain sites, fish will be sampled using a small beach seine (3.1×1.8 m [10 × 6 feet] with 3-mm mesh) from habitats that are accessible by biologists wearing waders. If a site has sufficient complexity, then the use of a backpack electrofisher may be considered. Fyke nets or other trap nets could be used in areas where the depth and or complexity would preclude efficient sampling with a beach seine and or backpack electrofisher.

At a minimum, habitat of each sampled wasteway/drain outfall will be qualitatively assessed for mesohabitat composition, cover, and the presence of woody debris and other structural features. All collected fish will be identified and counted. The standard length of all silvery minnow will be recorded. All collected fish will be returned back to the site of capture. Water quality during each sampling event will be collected from a minimum of three locations within each wasteway/drain outfall.

MAIN CHANNEL SAMPLING

Additional sampling of the Rio Grande at the confluence of the wasteway/drains will be conducted. Five (5) discrete 100-meter sites of main channel habitat will be systematically selected for monitoring. Sampling will occur prior to, during, and after anticipated drying in the proposed sampling area. During drying, only wetted main channel habitats that are maintained by water released from the drain/wasteway will be sampled. A single survey will be conducted prior to drying with a minimum of two conducted after drying begins. An additional survey may be conducted after drying ends and the river reconnects in the same areas that were sampled prior to drying. During 2016, a length of approximately 0.5 miles was observed to be maintained by discharge from the Los Chavez Wasteway (T.P. Archdeacon, personal communication), therefore sampling sites during drying may need to be modified or moved within the wetted habitat to ensure that five (5) 100-meter sites are sampled during both pre and post-drying sampling times.

Three Hobo temperature loggers will be placed into main channel habitats after drying occurs in the adjacent main channel. The temperature loggers will be placed systematically from the confluence of the Wasteway downstream to the lowermost pool that is maintained by water from the wasteway.

Fisheries sampling will consist of collecting 3-5 samples from each discrete 100-meter Main Channel site, if possible depending on the availability of habitat. All collected fish will be identified and counted. Water quality during each sampling event will be collected from each discrete 100-meter site using a YSI or equivalent meter. An Example of an Outfall Sampling Event is provided in Table 2. This Sampling Event would potentially be conducted 3 times during 2024 for each outfall listed.

Lower Peralta #2	(3-5)	4 samples per 100m	(2) minimum, (4) maximum depending on site conditions	4 samples per 100m
Storey Wasteway	(3-5)	4 samples per 100m	(2) minimum, (4) maximum depending on site conditions	4 samples per 100m
San Francisco Outfall	(3-5)	4 samples per 100m	(2) minimum, (4) maximum depending on site conditions	4 samples per 100m

WATER QUALITY AND ENVIRONMENTAL MONITORING

On each sampling date, water quality measurements will be collected from each wasteway and the adjacent main channel. A minimum of 3 water quality samples will be collected from wasteway area and the adjacent main channel. Water quality will be collected after fish sampling to minimize disturbance to the site and habitat occupancy by fish occupying the site. Water quality parameters will be measured using a YSI 556 multi-parameter handheld meter (Yellow Springs Instruments, Yellow Springs, Ohio), and included temperature (°C), dissolved oxygen (mg/L and %), conductivity ($\mu\text{S}/\text{cm}^\circ$ [conductivity corrected to 25°C], and $\mu\text{S}/\text{cm}$ [uncorrected]), salinity (parts per thousand), pH, and turbidity (Formazin turbidity units). Water depth (feet) and flow velocity (ft/s) will be measured using a USGS top-setting wading rod fitted with a Marsh-McBirney Flo-Mate portable flowmeter (Hach, Loveland, Colorado) or equivalent meter. Habitat types of areas sampled and where silvery minnow are found will be recorded to determine if habitat preferences are consistently observed. Contractor will note and quantify the general availability of viable habitat at each site and/or measure the wetted area.

SAMPLING ASSUMPTIONS TO MINIMIZE COLLECTION IMPACT

Sampling for fish in wasteways will not be conducted when water temperatures are at or above 30°C. Prior to sampling at each wasteway or the adjacent main channel temperature will be recorded to determine suitability for sampling. If the temperature is at or exceeds the threshold temperature of 30°C, the survey will be postponed until the temperature drops below the threshold temperature of 30°C.

If the density of silvery minnow in a wasteway and the adjacent main channel exceeds four (4) fish per sample or seine haul, or a total of 40 per wasteway site and the adjacent main channel, then beach seines will be the only gear type employed for sampling at that site during additional surveys. Results will be communicated with the USFWS to determine a suitable sampling frequency and avoid overlap with rescue/salvage activities in the area to minimize impacts to silvery minnow.

FISH PROCESSING AND HANDLING

All collected fish will be held in aerated buckets for processing and the temperature of the bucket will be monitored to ensure that it does not reach or exceed the 30°C threshold for sampling. All fish will be identified to species and counted. If silvery minnow are collected, then they will be processed immediately and returned to capture location to minimize stress to the species. Collected silvery minnow will be measured for standard length (mm), visually inspected for the presence of hemorrhagic lesions, parasites, anemia and fungal infections. Handling time of silvery minnow will be minimized and restricted to less than 30 seconds per fish to reduce stress. After processing, fish will be released to the area (wasteway/outfall or main channel) where they were captured. No fish will be transported away from location of capture. All collected fish will be identified in the field using taxonomic keys provided in Sublette et al. (1990); phylogenetic classification followed Nelson et al. (2004).

DEPLETION SAMPLING & END OF SEASON SAMPLING

During the planned August or September survey, a depletion sample will be conducted at three of the proposed drain outfall monitoring sites. The depletion survey will be conducted by closing a 30 meter site within the outfall channel with block nets and then depleting the fish population therein with either the backpack electrofisher or the beach seine, depending on environmental conditions. At each depletion survey area, a minimum of 3 and a maximum of 5 passes will be conducted to determine abundance within the depleted area. These data will be used to extrapolate out the density of fish within the drain for all species encountered. No depletion sampling will take place in the main channel of the river.

Once the irrigation season ends on October 31st, the Contractor may be asked to conduct a final sampling effort at each site to determine if any RGSM or other fish species are at risk of stranding inside the outfall channel once water deliveries are halted.

TIME PERIOD OF WORK

The expected period of service for this work order is from April 15th through November 1st of 2024.

DELIVERABLES

- Per task requested: Monitoring, Sampling and Analysis Plan (MSAP) to include description of work, schedule, and budget.

SUSPENSION AND DEBARMENT REQUIREMENT

CERTIFICATION REGARDING DEBARMENT, SUSPENSION, PROPOSED DEBARMENT AND OTHER RESPONSIBILITY MATTERS

The entering of a contract between Middle Rio Grande Conservancy District (MRGCD) and the successful Offeror pursuant to this RFP is a “covered transaction,” as defined by 45 C.F.R. Part 76. MRGCD’s contract with the successor Offeror shall contain a provision relating to debarment, suspension, and responsibility substantially in the form contained in Article 39 of Attachment D. All Offeror must provide as a part of their bids a certification to MRGCD in the form provided below. Failure of an Offeror to furnish a certification or provide such additional information as requested by the Procurement Manager for this RFP will render the Offeror non-responsible. Furthermore, the Offeror shall provide immediate written notice to the Procurement Manager for this RFP if, at any time prior to contract award, the Offeror learns that its certification was erroneous when submitted or has become erroneous by reason of changed circumstances.

Although MRGCD may review the veracity of the certification through the use of the federal Excluded Parties Listing System or by other means, the certification provided by the Offeror in paragraph (a), below, is a material representation of fact upon which MRGCD will rely when making a contract award. If it is later determined that the Offeror knowingly rendered an erroneous certification, in addition to other remedies available to MRGCD, MRGCD may terminate the contract resulting from this request for bids for default.

The certification provided by the Offeror in paragraph (a), below, will be considered in connection with a determination of the Offeror's responsibility. A certification that any of the items in paragraph (a), below, exists may result in rejection of the Offeror's bid for nonresponsibility and the withholding of an award under this RFP. If the Offeror's certification indicates that that any of the items in paragraph (a), below, exists, the Offeror shall provide with its bid a full written explanation of the specific basis for, and circumstances connected to, the item; the Offeror's failure to provide such explanation will result in rejection of the Offeror's bid. If the Offeror's certification indicates that that any of the items in paragraph (a), below, exists, MRGCD, in its sole discretion, may request, that the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services grant an exception under 45 C.F.R. §§ 76.120 and 76.305 if MRGCD believes that the procurement schedule so permits and an exception is applicable and warranted under the circumstances. In no event will MRGCD award a contract to an Offeror if the requested exception is not granted for the Offeror.

(a)(1) By signing and submitting a bid, the Offeror certifies, to the best of his/her knowledge and belief, that:

(i) The Offeror and/or any of its Principals-

- (A) Are ☐ are not ☐ presently debarred, suspended, proposed for debarment, or declared ineligible for the award of contracts by any Federal department or agency; (B) Have ☐ have not ☐, within a three-year period preceding the date of the Offeror's bid, been convicted of or had a civil judgment rendered against them for: commission of fraud or a criminal offense in connection with obtaining, attempting to obtain, or performing a public (Federal, state, or local) contract or subcontract; violation of Federal or state antitrust statutes relating to the submission of offers; or commission of embezzlement, theft, forgery, bribery, falsification or destruction of records, making false statements, tax evasion, or receiving stolen property;
- (C) Are ☐ are not ☐ presently indicted for, or otherwise criminally or civilly charged by a governmental entity (Federal, State or local) with, commission of any of the offenses enumerated in paragraph (a)(1)(i)(B) of this certification;
- (D) Have ☐ have not ☐ within a three-year period preceding the date of Offeror's bid, had one or more public agreements or transactions (Federal, State or local) terminated for cause or default; and
- (E) Have ☐ have not ☐ been excluded from participation from Medicare, Medicaid or other federal health care programs pursuant to Title XI of the Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. §1320a-7.

(ii) "Principal," for the purposes of this certification, shall have the meaning set forth in 45 C.F.R. §76.995 and shall include an officer, director; owner, partner, principal investigator, or other person having management or supervisory responsibilities related to a covered transaction. "Principal" also includes a consultant or other person, whether or not employed by the participant or paid with Federal funds, who: is in a position to handle Federal funds; is in a position to influence or control the use of those funds; or occupies a technical or professional position capable of substantially influencing the development or outcome of an activity required to perform the covered transaction.

(iii) For the purposes of this certification, the terms used in the certification, such as covered transaction, debarred, excluded, exclusion, ineligible, ineligibility, participant, and person have the meanings set forth in the definitions and coverage rules of 45 C.F.R. Part 76.

(iv) Nothing contained in the foregoing certification shall be construed to require establishment of a system of records in order to render, in good faith, the certification required by paragraph (a) of this provision. The knowledge and information of an Offeror is not required to exceed that which is normally possessed by a prudent person in the ordinary course of business dealings.
